About The Speaker

Rebecca McDowell (Bekki) Cook became Missouri's 26th Secretary of State on December 16, 1994, when she was appointed by Governor Mel Carnahan to fill a vacancy in the office. On November 5, 1996, Cook was elected by over 1 million Missouri citizens to serve as Secretary of State into the next century. She is the first Cape Girardeau County native elected to statewide office in Missouri in 100 years.

At the time of her appointment, Bekki Cook was serving as a member of the State Board of Elementary and Secondary Education. She was first appointed to the state board in September of 1990 by Governor John Ashcroft, and later appointed by Governor Carnahan. Recently, Cook was selected as one of 40 emerging state leaders from across the nation for the prestigious Toll Fellowship Program, sponsored by The Council of State Governments. In April she was presented the 1998 James C. Kirkpatrick Excellence in Governance Award from Central Missouri State University. She has also been selected to serve as a member of the 1998 Commission on the Future of the South by the Southern Growth Policies Board and is a member of the executive committee of the National Association of Secretaries of State.

In 1972, Bekki Cook graduated from the University of Missouri-Columbia with a B.A. in political science and from the University of Missouri-Columbia School of Law in 1975. From 1975 to 1992, she practiced law in Cape Girardeau.

She is married to John Larkin Cook, a Cape Girardeau attorney. They have two children: Hunter, 17, and Morgan, 15.

Academic Attire

As early as the twelfth century the first modern universities, at Bologna and Paris, were centers of European learning. The usual garb of the time, for both churchmen and laymen, was a long gown which was necessary for warmth in the unheated buildings of the day. Scholars, generally members of church orders, wore such robes and also hoods to protect their shaven heads. Later, skull caps were worn on the head, and the hood became a cape which could be pulled over the head in unpleasant weather. The hood was also sometimes used to collect alms from the more affluent members of the community. As additional universities were founded, distinctive forms of the gown and hood were adopted by their faculties. Variations indicated various ranks within the institutions. Strict rules were published and in some cases punishment cited for tailors who departed from the authorized design.

The academic hat was a later development, adapted from the headdress of the ordinary people. Academically, it was originally worn as a symbol of the master's degree, and existed in various forms: some were round, some square and some had a tuft in the center. The flat, square "mortar board" of today originated at Oxford University in England.

Academic costume came to America in 1754 with the founding of King's College, now Columbia University. Styles became quite varied as they were in Europe, but in 1895 a group of American college and university representatives met to establish a uniform system of academic apparel for this country. This led to the establishment in 1902 of an "Intercollegiate Code of Academic Costume." The American Council of Education formed a committee in 1932 to review the 1895 code, which was again reviewed and revised in both 1960 and 1965.

There are today three basic types of gowns and hoods. The bachelor's gown has pointed sleeves and is designed to be worn closed. Recipients of the associate degrees wear gray gowns designed like the bachelor's gown. The master's gown is designed with an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist and with an arc cut away at the front of the sleeve. It may be worn either open or closed. The doctoral gown is of a full design with voluminous sleeves, and it also may be worn open or closed. Unlike the other two, the doctoral gown is faced down the front with velvet and with three velvet bars on the sleeves. These may be black or a color related to the subject of the degree. Thus, arts, letters and humanities may be white, business degrees may be drab or sapphire blue, education uses light blue, fine arts is brown, music is pink and science is golden yellow, to name a few.

The caps are always black, with a black tassel for baccalaureate degrees and a tassel of the color indicated above for master's. Doctoral caps usually have a tassel of metallic gold color.

The hoods worn by master's degree recipients are lined with the official colors of the institution awarding the degree. The binding and edging of the hood is silk or velvet in the color pertaining to the subject area. Doctoral hoods are longer and designed somewhat fuller, but the colors again are those of the institution granting the degree for the lining, and of the subject for the wide edging. There exists a small bachelor's hood, but generally it is not used in this country.
